Becoming rich: step 1

The first and perhaps most important step to becoming rich is believing that it's possible. This may seem trivial to some but rest assured it is vital in the pursuit and attainment of wealth. Those that can't see themselves with lots of money will never ever make the necessary effort to acquire it.

I was at a dinner party the other day and was speaking to a guy about his life. He mentioned how he went from one low-paying job to another with nothing to show for it. His wife stays at home with their 3 small children and he expressed the difficulty in making ends meet. As the conversation progressed it became abundantly clear why he was in that position with no hope of ever becoming financially free. "Rich people are dishonest and crooked" were his exact words. I asked him why he held that belief. "You can't make all that money by being an honest person". I was stunned! I had trouble understanding the thought process involved in reaching that erroneous conclusion.

Nevertheless, it explained why he will never be rich; he doesn't see himself as being a dishonest bad person. For this reason he will never seek out opportunities to increase income or learn a skill in his spare time that might come useful in making more money. He will spend his free time playing games and watching tv.

Yesterday I bumped into his wife and she mentioned how excited she was that they found a house for very cheap. I asked her "what's cheap?". She said "only $1250 a month". It took me a few seconds to realize that she was talking about renting.

We have different standards and expectations. They expect to rent and live paycheck to paycheck, I expect to buy and be financially independent. My aim is not to stop until that goal is realized.
